Re: Notice of Ex Parte Communication
MB Docket No. 16-42
Expanding Consumers' Video Navigation Choices
CS Docket No. 97-80
Commercial Availability of Navigation Devices

Dear Ms. Dortch:

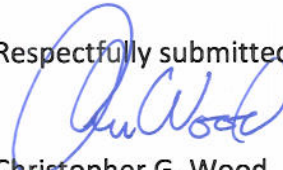

On August 19, 2016, the undersigned and Mark Kortekaas, Chief Technology Officer and Executive Vice President, Interactive Media & News, Univision Communications Inc. ("Univision"); Scott Levine, Senior Vice President, Product & Technology for Univision; Theodore Stoner, Vice President, Distribution Technology Strategy for Univision; and Gerard Kunkel, Managing Partner, Next Media Partners, LLC participated in a conference call with Jessica Almond of Chairman Wheeler's office and Scott Jordon of the Office of Strategic Planning & Policy Analysis.

The purpose of the call was to discuss the Commission's consideration of a revised regulatory framework in the above-referenced proceeding in order to respond to concerns which have been raised by programmers. Under this approach, programmer content would be distributed through an MVPD app, to ensure copyright protection and adherence to the important contractual provisions that programmers have negotiated with MVPDs. MVPD apps could be built in their own native code, not only HTML5. We discussed potential measures to prevent discrimination with respect to programmer's own apps. We also discussed the minimum data which would be necessary to implement a basic functioning search program, the
